

Show Features Loyola Night

Final rehearsals are over and Loyola Night, the annual variety show presented by the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society, goes on tonight at the Evergreen Gymnasium beginning at 8:15.

Invitations to the show and dance to follow are priced at $1.50, stag or drag, according to James E. Bowen, Business Manager.

Robert S. Custer, General Chairman, and the Rev. Leo G. Monaghan, S.J., Moderator, have been handling directional duties for the various skits, song and dance acts, novelty routines and the like for the past week, and assure the student body that another all-star cast is in shape for Loyola Night 1948.

Bill Mullikin and Co., George Herman's troupe and Frank Gallagher's "MacBeth" parody are expected to be highlighted along with the Jim Carmody, John Schaub, Jim Stephens' arrangement especially concocted for this evening. Cyril Keller's magic, songs by the Loyola Glee Club and piano and accordion solos are also listed.

Lawrence Davis, in charge of the Entertainment Committee, has lined up the Modernists to do the music-making for the dance immediately following the show.

Campus Shop Sells Tickets

The Campus Shop of Loyola College will sell tickets to any event sponsored by a campus organization, it was announced at the Student Council meeting last week.

The Rev. Robert P. Arthur, S.J., and William J. McElroy will be in charge of the tickets, and any class, club or society wishing to sell tickets to a particular event should make arrangements with them.

You Are A Member Of NSA

(Loyola College last year became a member of the National Student Association. NSA delegates for Loyola are Winston Kourey and Edward McNeal. Here is their report to you, the Loyola College student.)

Last year after investigation of the United States National Student Association (NSA), the student body of Loyola College became affiliated with this nationwide student group.

Since that time, efforts have been made to acquaint the student body with the purpose and activities of the organization.

What is NSA, and why is every member of the student body a member? NSA is concerned with the enhancement of students' welfare, and with the increase of opportunities for students to contribute to the welfare of the national and international community. It offers an opportunity for the students of Loyola to help themselves in a cooperative effort with the students of the major colleges and universities of the United States.

NSA is the most representative group in the country.

One of the primary purposes of this association is the establishment of a sound and constructive student government upon the campus of every American college. It endeavors to develop the highest educational standards and facilities for every student, regardless of sex, race, religious or political belief or economic circumstance. The NSA wishes to foster in each student the recognition of his rights, and his responsibilities to his school, to his community and to God. It is a further aim of this national movement to promote international good will and understanding between the American students and students of foreign lands.

As a student of Loyola College, you are a member of the National Students' Association. Here at Evergreen, an NSA committee is soon to be established. The committee will be composed of earnestly interested students, men who will work for NSA. The success or failure of the committee lies with the student body.

NSA here at Loyola can mean something to you. Will it?

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT—Loyola Night is guaranteed to make you laugh your head off. Apparently "The Three Loose Nuts" (that's Schaub and Stephens being held by Carmody) have another method. Don't miss the act.

Farley, Owens, Trainor Join Society Of Jesus

Three members of the student body of Loyola College entered the Society of Jesus this week, when a sophomore and two freshmen students began their novitiate at the St. Isaac Jogues Novitiate, Wernersville, Pa.

Francis E. Farley and A. Thomas Owens, the first year students, and F. Xavier Trainor joined the Jesuit order on the feast of All Saints.

Farley and Owens are graduates of the 1948 class of Loyola High School, and were students in the Bachelor of Arts course at Evergreen.

Trainor, a City College graduate, spent three years in the service and a year at the University of Maryland before coming to Loyola. He was an outstanding member of the Junior Sodality.

Evening School Sponsors IGE

An Institute of General Education will be sponsored by the Loyola College Evening School and Adult Education, on Sunday afternoons, November 21, December 5 and December 12 in the Loyola College Library. The programs will begin at 4:00 p. m.

The Rev. John E. Wise, S.J., Dean of the Evening School, announced that the speakers would include Dr. John S. Brubacher of Yale, the Rev. Dr. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., former President of Loyola College, and Dr. Russell M. Cooper of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. William H. Lemmel, Superintendent of Public Education of Baltimore, the Rev. Dr. Leo J. McCormick, Archdiocesan Superintendent of Schools, and Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Superintendent of Education for the State of Maryland, will serve as chairmen.

'49 Classes To Have Two Graduation Exercises

Two commencement exercises will be held at Loyola College in 1949, according to an official letter presented last Thursday afternoon by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., President, to representatives of the January, May and July classes.

The letter, copies of which were given to Joseph Raphael, President of the January class, Raymond E. Parr, President of the May class and Samuel A. Phelps, Vice-President of the July class, stated that the college administration considered the circumstances of this year's classes, and drew up a resolution, pending passage by the Board of Trustees, which states:

1. There will be commencement exercises for the January and May classes on the date specified in the catalogue, June 5.

July Commencement

2. There will be commencement exercises for the July class on a date in July to be specified by the Dean.

3. These two exercises will be considered parts of the ninety-ninth commencement of Loyola College.

4. One program will be printed for both exercises and will include the names of all the candidates.

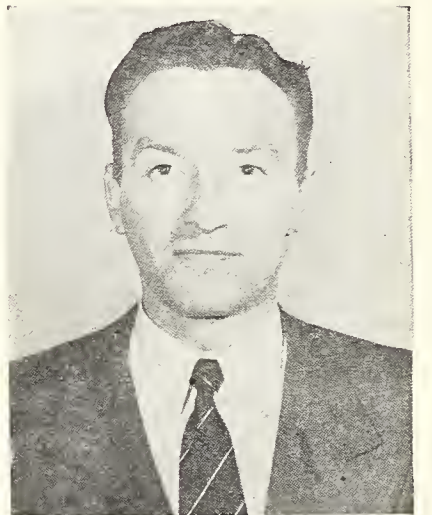

5. Each of the two sessions will have its own speakers and special guests in the traditional manner.

Class Sends Petition

The letter was in receipt of a petition of October 12 sent by the three classes requesting Fr. Talbot to consider the situation. In previous years, there has been one graduation exercise annually, and those to be graduated later than the commencement date (in this case the July class) would not receive degrees but merely take part in the ceremony.

Officers of the July class, led by President Eugene Welsh, drew up a petition signed by all class members urging Fr. Talbot to hold two commencement exercises.

Glee Club Head Elected Again

Albert G. Fitzgerald

Albert G. Fitzgerald was re-elected President of the Loyola College Glee Club for the 1948-49 season at a meeting conducted on October 21.

Bertrand Morales was chosen Vice-President; William J. McDermott, Secretary; and Alexander Uchuck, Treasurer.

Club Schedule Drawn Up

At the meeting, tentative plans for Club activity were formulated by Mr. Felice Iula, Moderator of the group.

The Glee Club will participate in a mass concert at the Polytechnic Auditorium on November 18, and will also sing over radio station WBAL on November 21 and 28.

Christmas Program Planned

The Christmas schedule includes performances at O'Neill's department store, and at St. Mary's Church, Annapolis.

The traditional Christmas program at Loyola will take place on December 19.

Members of the Glee Club have been attending regular rehearsal three times a week to meet the double demands of Loyola Night and the Associated Male Chorus Concert to be held at Polytechnic.

No Station, Says BTC

In response to a letter of October 24, suggesting a waiting station at the northwest corner of Charles Street and Cold Spring Lane, the Student Council received a letter last week, signed by Raymond S. Tompkins, Vice-President of Public Relations for the Baltimore Transit Company.

The letter stated in part that "We are sorry we cannot comply with your request due to the fact that we have no unused stations available and the cost of building new ones makes it prohibitive under present circumstances".

Henry V Camera Technique Is Incredibly Authentic

by George Herman

Having seen both Hamlet and Henry V, I would certainly like to recommend the film now playing at the Little Theatre as one of the finest interpretations of Shakespeare in many a yard of celluloid, and most certainly an excellent piece of art justifying the much-abused medium.

According to the finest Old Vic reputation of which Leo Genn, Laurence Olivier, Robert Newton and Felix Aylmer are members, the Shakespearean poetry is rendered in a natural, easy-flowing manner. The Old Vic stoutly maintains that Shakespeare was a playwright first and a poet second, thus the lines should be recited as everyday talk, and not half-sung, half-chanted as Maurice Evans is said to believe.

Exceptional Camera Work

Camera technique is exceptional, and the panoramic view of Elizabethan England in the beginning of the film should prove most enlightening to English students. The Globe Theatre and the Elizabethan manner of play-acting is incredible in its authenticity as well as entertaining. Since the first part of the picture is concerned with the first showing of Shakespeare's play, it seemed exceptionally natural when one of the actors drops the cue sheets.

Added from Henry IV is Falstaff's rebuke from the King ("A man . . . so old and so profane . . .") which thus enlightens the one line in the original, "The king has kill'd his heart".

Cast Listed

Among the actors, all of whom are far superior to anything American-made, are Olivier as Henry V; Robert Newton as Pistol; Leslie Banks as Chorus; Felix Aylmer as The Archbishop; and Leo Genn as the Constable.

Henry V may stay at the Little for four or five weeks, so don't miss it!

Music Recorded Ban or No Ban

by Richard Coleman

The music business is really rolling again—the record end anyway—ban or no ban. Some authoritative sources say that some of the major artists have been recording since way last April. If they are not recording, will some one please tell me how such artists as Ella Fitzgerald, The Ravens, Dinah Washington and a host of others can come out with the latest hit in town called "It's Too Soon To Know." We are inclined to think Ella's is the smoothest—Decca.

Another new tune recorded by several of the top artists of the day is titled "Slow Boat to China." It's a catchy novelty tune but corny in spots. Our choice of recordings is the strictly commercial Keyser job.

Jimmy Dorsey and the King Cole Trio have presented a little ditty called "Lillette." I don't like it, but from all indications it probably won't get dusty. Everyone knows the fine work of Dorsey, but Cole's intimate styling of this one is far superior.

Am I being bold by mentioning that my own Evergreen Recording is in the Campus Shop awaiting your approval?

Pre-Meds Take Aptitude Test

Over fifty Loyola pre-med students reported to Johns Hopkins University last Saturday, October 30, at 9:00 a. m. to take the Professional Medical Aptitude Test.

The exam stretched three hours during the morning and continued from 1:00 till 4:00. Admission was by ticket only; applications were accepted from October 1 to October 15 at Loyola. The test was given by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

The test gives the individual student a guide to his rating with other medical candidates all over the country. This rating is taken into account, but is not an absolute necessity, when applying for medical school.

The main purpose of the test is to rate the college with those all over the country. Loyola College has always rated in the upper 30% of the groups.

There are three sections in the test covering General Intelligence, Humanities and Science. It is marked by IBM machines which require special electronic pencils to be used on the answer sheets.

Physical Exam Required This Month For Students

In a recent announcement by the Office of the Dean of Studies, all students must undergo a physical examination during the month of November.

All students who wish to be examined by their family doctor may do so, but a signed note from him must be given to the Rev. Robert P. Arthur, S.J., Dean of Men, no later than November 17.

Those not having an exam by that date will be examined at the college during the following two weeks.

The examination is now a requirement for admission to Loyola. The announcement was promulgated since some few of those playing on the school athletic teams and in intramural games were found to be physically unfit for these strenuous exercises.

In the past, all students were examined before their admission to the college, but due to the large influx of veterans, who had been given recent physicals, this practice was discontinued for several years.

New Evergreen Quarterly Will Appear November 18

The Evergreen Quarterly will make its initial appearance of the new term on November 18. Complete with a revised format and an increase in the number of pages, the magazine will be the work of co-editors John Scrimger and David McManus.

The stories in this issue will be of the same caliber as those of last year with an especially interesting article, "Robert . . .?", by Donald Swartz occupying the feature spot.

Jesuit Colleges Form Press Group

XAVIER U., Cincinnati, O. (JCNA) — Reactivation of the Jesuit College Newspaper Association, dormant during World War II, has been completed with the appointment of a staff to compile and edit weekly news about Jesuit and other Catholic colleges in the United States and abroad.

Although the Association has not received information from all twenty-one Jesuit colleges and universities in this country and the European colleges, several institutions including the University of Detroit, Le Moyne College, Loyola College, Boston College, University of Santa Clara and Loyola University at Los Angeles have applied for membership in the organization.

The Association, which was originally begun in 1937 at Xavier University, Cincinnati, will airmail weekly news releases of national importance, conduct a yearly critical survey of member papers, and offer cartoon service to members.

Loyola Bridge Club Loses to Notre Dame

The Notre Dame bridge club made it three in a row over Loyola in a match on Sunday, October 24. The match was a close test with the final score 19,950 to 17,490. The last table decided the issue.

The tournament was held in the Notre Dame Day Students Lounge. The sting of defeat was lessened somewhat by the charming surroundings and the fine refreshments served by the president of the freshman class, assisted by other freshman boarders.

The Greyhounds plan to play Mt. St. Agnes College in the near future with Goucher, Maryland College for Women and State Teachers College also being contacted for matches.

Hofer Fought Russians In Hungary

Andrew Hofer

Loyola cannot boast of a large group of foreign students as can many other colleges but of those attending Loyola, the experiences of Andrew Hofer are most interesting.

Born and reared near Budapest, Hungary, Hofer attended a Hungarian Military College before the war. At the time of his graduation, the Nazis invaded and he was forced to do service in the Hungarian Coast Guard.

Total War

The Hofer family was no exception to other European families whose country was engaged in total war. Because both the Russians and the Germans robbed their home, his father, mother and sister were compelled to move into a cave in Budapest. These three members of his family still reside in Russian-dominated Hungary.

Toward the end of the war, Hungary was fighting the Russians when the American troops moved into the area and Hofer was temporarily placed in a prison camp. After a short time he was discharged. He then attended the Munich Technical College for eight months before smuggling himself over the border into France where he stayed for one year.

It was in France that Hofer, then a DP, obtained his opportunity to come to the United States as an immigrant.

No Classes

When asked to compare American Colleges with those in Europe, he stated, "Over there you don't have to attend classes; you just have to get good marks in the exams for which you obtain no credits. Soccer, tennis and hockey are the mainstays of the Athletic program with Olympic gymnastics holding most of the student's interest."

He has filed his application for citizenship and unlike his father, a doctor who studied at Johns Hopkins, he doesn't wish to return to the mother country.

Gold Pen and Pencil Set Presented to Jubilarian

The Executive Council of the Alumni Association of Loyola College presented a gold Parker pen and pencil set to the Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S. J., in commemoration of his Golden Jubilee in the Society of Jesus.

The award was made Thursday, October 28, at a special meeting of the Executive Council by J. Preston McNeal, a classmate of Fr. Didusch.

The pen and pencil were to have been given the Friday previous, but due to the illness of Fr. Didusch, the presentation was delayed a week.

Sodalists Plan Mass-Breakfast

A Communion Breakfast sponsored by the members of the Senior Sodality in conjunction with the Junior Sodality will be held on Sunday morning, November 7. Mass will be celebrated at 9:00 a.m. in the Student Chapel, immediately followed by breakfast in the cafeteria.

Sodalists from Mt. St. Agnes and Notre Dame colleges will serve the breakfast, to which all students are invited.

Guest Speaker Announced

James Oaster, Communion Breakfast chairman, announced that the guest speaker will be John Walker, a prominent motion-picture producer and retired actor, of New York City.

The Sodalities also plan to sponsor a party for 455 orphaned children from seven Catholic institutions, to be held in the Gymnasium at 2 p.m., Saturday, November 6. The children will be entertained by the Dramatic Society, which will restage its Loyola Night performance. Afterwards, refreshments will be served, and novel gifts distributed.

Dialogue Mass Planned

At a recent meeting, Senior Sodalists decided that a Dialogue Mass would be held in the Student Chapel every Friday morning at 7:55. All Catholic students are urged to attend.

It was also announced that Rosary devotions will be conducted in the Chapel, beginning November 2 if the weather is not clear. Otherwise they will continue to be held outside.

Meet The Faculty:

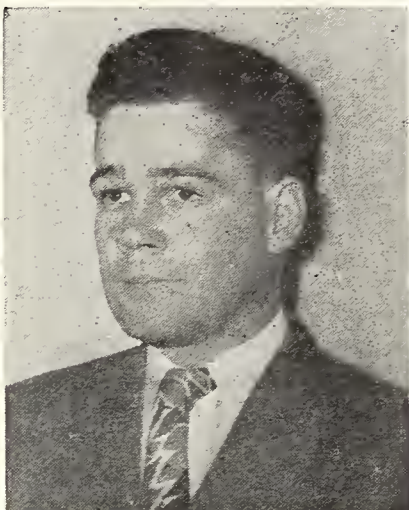

Physics Instructor Has Won Three Scholarships

With an impressive scholastic record behind him, Mr. Donald M. Slager, who is a Physics Instructor at Loyola, is now working for his Doctorate at Johns Hopkins University.

After graduation from high school in Great Falls, Montana, where he was Salutatorian of his class, Mr. Slager entered the Illinois Institute of Technology. Upon his graduation in 1945, he received a teaching fellowship at I. I. T. where he taught for a short time before going on to the University of California in Los Angeles to receive his M. S. in 1947.

He is an associate member of Sigma Xi, the National Research Honor Society and has won three scholarships, the first, a National Competitive Scholarship to I. I. T., the others to U. C. L. A. and Johns Hopkins. He also served as Instructor in those three colleges.

His Doctorate work at Hopkins is on "The Theory of X-Rays" which is to be finished next year. Swimming, fishing and table tennis are listed as his active sports while football and lacrosse were mentioned as sports he enjoys watching.

One Way Lanes

Congestion caused by parking on the campus has made the use of automobiles a hazardous undertaking. Almost everyone has seen the ridiculous situation where two cars approaching each other on the campus meet and cannot pass. One of the autos must be backed onto the grass so that the other may pass.

THE GREYHOUND proposes a solution to this awkward setup. We believe that the college authorities should make all lanes on the campus one way. Either the Charles street entrance or the Cold Spring Lane entrance should be marked "Entrance Only." The other should be used only as an exit.

The sooner some sensible plan is devised and placed into operation, the better it will be for the student driver. A one way plan would speed the flow of traffic both at the beginning and end of the school day. This problem will become much more critical when the ground is blanketed by snow. A solution now is pressing.

Promises Fulfilled

One of the scarcest articles on the political market today is the man who fulfills pre-election promises after he has been voted into office. Loyola possesses such a rarity in the person of E. Clinton Bamberger, President of the Student Council.

Already work has begun on the erection of a trophy case in the basement of the Gymnasium. Although we were unable to publish them, Bamberger procured for THE GREYHOUND several articles concerning candidates for national office. He has installed a suggestion box in the basement of the Library Building and has posted the more sensible ones on the bulletin board along with answers and reports of progress.

His promise of the placement service was taken up at the last Alumni Association meeting. A complete account of this will be given in the next issue.

We wish to congratulate Bamberger on his efforts to carry out the promises he made before his election. His attitude is one which the professional politicians would do well to adopt.

Test Trouble

Whenever a student is heard to complain about the way an instructor grades a test, the ordinary reaction is to think that the student didn't prepare for the exam. However, there are times when a complaint is justified.

Some teachers have fallen into the nasty habit of expecting a more complete answer on a test paper than their question asked for. For example, when the question reads Name the four processes employed in brewing beer, it is unfair to mark a student's answer incorrect when he does not explain those processes. If the instructor wants an explanation, he should ask for it explicitly.

Most students who know their subjects do try to give a complete answer. However, the time allotted for tests makes it virtually impossible to both read the teacher's mind and answer all the questions.

Books From The Library

The Old Beauty and Others

by Willa Cather

This collection of three stories published after the death of the author attests the superior quality which marks the writings of Willa Cather. Her subjects are familiar ones, portrayed sympathetically, but not too vitalized.

The Old Beauty is a society belle of pre-war days seen through the eyes of a younger admirer. The grace and charm which captivated London society during this era is aging, reminiscing about the past and resenting the present. She realizes only too late her admirers were the really great men of the period. Her death climaxes the memoir.

A Little Catholicity

Most people have associated the word Sodality with a congregation of pious women who sing sweet hymns and bake apple pies for the poor of the parish. Unfortunately whenever a college student is approached and asked to join the college Sodality, he chuckles to himself mentally and says, "No sugary psalms or apple pies for me."

No notion could be more inaccurate. A Sodality, according to the testimony of history, was and is primarily a men's organization. It is a virile group engaged in worthwhile activities for a worthy purpose. The men who are loyal Sodality members are the men who have an appreciation of what value really is.

When you join the Sodality, you are not presented with a veil of lace. You are incorporated into a living body. There is no religious fanfare—it's down to earth Catholicism.

Loyola Boys Volunteer To Assist Baby-Sitters

—by Frank Gallagher—

Something New Has Been Added

In the past month, this column has become both a clearing house for blood banks and an employment agency for young men who are willing to sit with baby-sitters. After an article had appeared describing how one student was "donating" rare blood for fifty dollars per pint, a number of students having the same type blood inquired where they could gain similar employment.

Likewise, several collegians expressed a desire to use Evergreen Scenes as an agency for their baby-sitting services. They have indicated a strong preference to work with baby-sitters between the ages of eighteen and twenty-nine.

All girls who wish to be "protected" by Loyola College students while baby-sitting must fill out a printed form which will provide our students with necessary information. Questions concern age, color of eyes, color of hair and other pertinent characteristics.

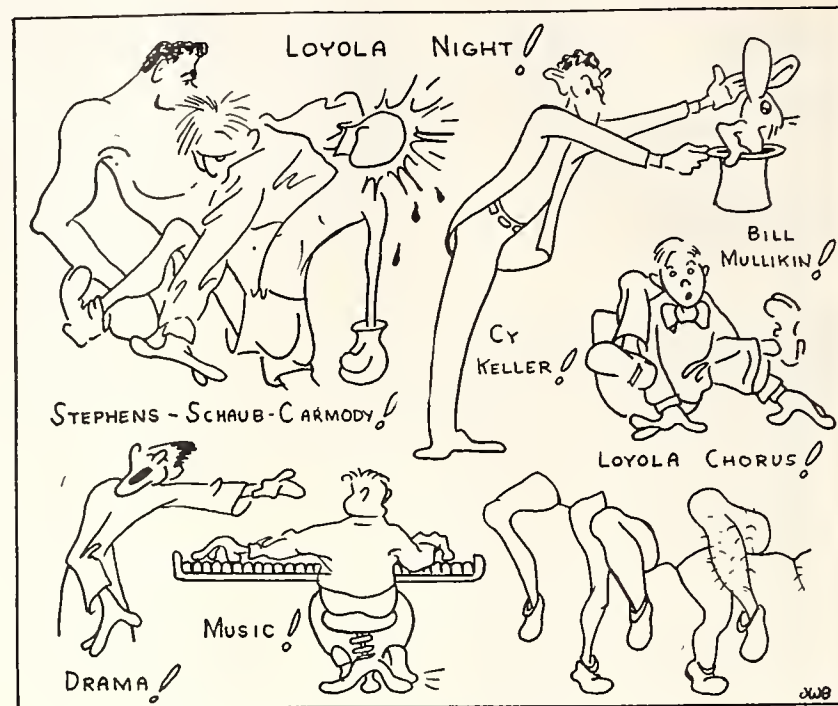

Out-Of-Towners Organize

From all indications, Loyola will have a new club very soon—the Cosmopolitan Club for out-of-town students. The purpose of this club will be to provide suitable surroundings for those who must board in Baltimore.

The Club will also try to arrange recreation for the young men who don't know their way around town. Recreation will include dates with charming femmes fatales from hither and anon. (Kymry Club of N. D. M., please note.)

Assorted Trivia

Bob Dorsey, campus Chesterfield representative, gave away 216,000 cigarettes to students here last year. That's a lot of puffs for nothing . . . There are 320 in this year's graduating class—an all time record . . . Both Mike Zedalis and Bill Ferguson have sustained injuries while scrimmaging on the basketball court this year . . . College newspapers all over the nation often reprint features published by THE GREYHOUND, especially Shakespeare Comments . . . So many students drive their own cars to school that it appears they would rather drive than eat.

All's Well Here; No Troubles

Everything must be perfect at Loyola. Now and then we hear someone say that there is a little trifle about which they would like to do something. But it's probably not important.

In fact, things are so good that no one cares to write nasty letters to the editor. He hasn't had a letter in months. There are no gripes, no sour grapes, no nothing.

Therefore, we are discontinuing our Letters To The Editor column. There is no need for a medium of student expression outside of the regular columns in THE GREYHOUND. Utopia, here we come!

Yes, it does look like a basketball tapoff, but it really took place in the soccer game between Loyola and Maryland. Staff Photo—Bowen

Pacing The Pack

Insurance Is Progressive Factor in Sports Picture

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

It's beginning to look as though everyone is trying to out progress the other guy over in Alumni Gymnasium these days. The latest innovation makes it possible for an aspiring Greyhound athlete to throw financial caution to the winds when risking bodily injury in the heat of stiff sports competition.

Athletic Director Reitz has revealed that, for the first time in the history of the school, arrangements have been made for insurance coverage of any sports-incurred injury to Loyola athletes. This, of course, does not include intramurals. See your class treasurer about that.

This insurance protection is being made available through sales profits of the Campus Shop. It looks like a one-two punch to me. You make purchases from Bill McElroy at a cut price, and at the same time help the guys who put on a mighty good sports show for you from September to June.

At present, the limit on payment allowed for a single injury is $250, but it is hoped that in due time the ante will be upped considerably. Just remember this, men; only injuries pay off. So, don't catch pneumonia!

Brennan Adds To The Picture

Hats off to George Brennan, Loyola's loyalty-minded Tennis Team Manager, who has come forth with a fine proposition.

George has an idea whereby a sports film library can be started and maintained by the Athletic Department. He has been busily at work soliciting patron contributions from the student body for this project.

The funds will be used for the purchase of movie film, so that pictures may be taken, throughout the scholastic year, of all Loyola athletic events, varsity and intramural. Lefty Reitz already has a fine movie camera, purchased through Block-L funds during the past year.

The idea is to record on film, as much as possible, sports activity at Evergreen. This film library will be made available for the use of Alumni and student groups, who wish to show them at school functions.

It should be quite a thrill for Joe Doaks to be sitting in the Gym and suddenly say to his girl: "Hey, that's me working the pivot on that double play!"

Brennan has the full backing of the Athletic Department, and also its promise to publish the names of contributors in the form of a 'thank you' notice in the 1948-49 basketball programs. The plan includes carrying out this procedure every year. It's a good project, by the students, for the students.

Two Championships?

Coaches Bish Baker and Bill McElroy are probably getting quite upset these days with talk of championships in soccer and cross-country filling the campus. You know, coaches' superstition!

You can bet that each has some feeling of security, though, with the first three Conference tests of both the booters and the harriers safely tucked away. Baker and McElroy are in the driver's seat, whether they care to admit it or not.

Terps Toppled At Evergreen

by Gerry McCormick

A much heralded University of Maryland soccer team bowed to a fighting Loyola outfit by a score of 3-1, at Evergreen last Friday afternoon. In winning what was considered by many to be the toughest clash on their schedule, the Greyhounds displayed a potent attack and a surprisingly tight defense.

After taking a 2-0 lead in the first half, on goals by Jimmy Bullington and Henry Linz, the Green and Gray was called upon time after time to hurl back the desperate onslaught of the Terrapins in a wild second half.

Loyola Dominates Play

The first period was almost over before Jimmy Bullington scored the initial tally of the game, after taking a nice pass from Nick Kropfelder. Throughout the game Kropfelder directed the attack for Loyola with his skillful passing.

During a melee in front of the Maryland net, in the second quarter, Hank Linz managed to slip the ball into the net to give Loyola a 2-0 lead.

Early in the third period, Lew Fonte kicked a long one toward the net from the left side of the field. As the ball approached the net, Nick Kropfelder rushed to the edge of the goal line, and catching the goalie slightly out of position, headed the ball into the scoring zone. This marker put the Greyhounds ahead, 3 to 0.

From this point on the Terps carried the fight to Loyola, but to no avail, as the Greyhounds' defense proved too strong.

Gants Looks Good

John Gants, Loyola's agile Goalie, made the first of his many saves with a sensational, diving catch. While Dick Hicks and Tommy Lind were repeatedly setting the Terps back on their heels with long kicks, Armando Luzzi was worrying them with his tricky dribbling. Hank Linz was the standout as he daringly intercepted numerous passes.

One of the interesting features of the game was the presence of the Linz brothers playing Center Half on the opposing teams; Henry sporting Green and Gray spangles, and John booting for Maryland. Incidentally, their defensive play was a standout factor for their respective squads.

Cross-Country

Mark Falls As Loyola Cops Second M-D Test

Traveling four miles in record time seems to be the favorite pastime of George Rodney, Loyola's new cross-country ace. In a meet against Gallaudet at Washington, Rodney lowered the Mason-Dixon mark, his second record in as many starts. He chopped 40 seconds off the record as he finished in a time of 20:24.

The 23-32 victory was Loyola's second conference win. Finishing in the place position, close on the heels of Rodney, was ever reliable George Brown. The next man to cross the tape was a member of the Silents' crew and close behind came George Kimmerlein, drawing a fourth position for the Greyhounds. Completing the scoring column for the Green and Gray team were Joe Will and Larry Atkinson, running seventh and ninth respectively.

When one considers the obstacles

by Bob Bourbon

With George Rodney playing havoc with the course record and the Greyhounds sweeping the first four places, Loyola breezed to an easy 16-39 cross-country conquest of Catholic U. last Wednesday, at Clifton Park. This marked the Green and Gray's third successive win this season, and the first time Loyola has ever beaten Catholic U. in cross-country competition.

Rodney, number one man on Coach Bill McElroy's squad, negotiated the route in 21:04, to better the existing record by 22 seconds. He finished about 150 yards ahead of teammate George Brown. Close behind Brown were Yogi Paszek and Jim Kaufman. First man over for the Cardinals was Jim Rudd, followed by George Kimmerlein, of Loyola.

Loyola Looking Ahead

By this decisive win, Loyola has served notice to all and sundry that it has visions of a 1949 Mason-Dixon Crown. Considering the performance of the entire team to date, that goal shouldn't be impossible to realize.

Loyola's next meet is a non-conference affair; a contest with St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, on November 9.

Washington Win Streak Stopped

by Andy O'Donnell

Washington College's Soccer team, last year's Mason-Dixon Champions, which had been riding high for 12 straight games, played the role of "Humpty Dumpty" last Wednesday when they encountered the Green and Gray of Loyola College.

The contest, which took place on the Eastern Shore was by no means a picnic for the skilled booters of Evergreen. The determining factor of the game seemed to be the unsurpassable defensive play which Bish Baker's men exhibited.

Loyola Draws First Blood

The first goal, after 16 minutes of the hectic contest had elapsed, was scored by the spearhead of the attack, Nick Kropfelder. He headed this goal in with all the finesse that his years of experience have gained.

The second quarter found both teams playing a tight defensive game. Hank Linz showed the way in this period with his scintillating defensive play.

In the third quarter, the tide of the Green and Gray began to roll in, and the booters from Washington College found themselves enveloped in a rush which was climaxed by Armando Luzzi's beautiful corner kick, resulting in a score. This put Loyola on top by a count of 2 to 0.

Bullington Impressive

The fourth period saw no score until the last four minutes, when Ed Twilly, of Washington, headed the Eastern Shoremen's only counter into the meshes. The action of this period was dominated by the greatly improved work of Harry Bullington, who proved to be a thorn in the opposition's side all afternoon.

Coach Bish Baker's change of Lou Fonte from Wing to Inside Right proved fruitful as Lou played a bang-up game.

We don't claim to be superstitious, and presume the boys from Washington College feel likewise. However, this could have been Washington's thirteenth straight victory; and Nick Kropfelder, top Loyola scoring threat, wore number thirteen on his back. It looks as though Old Man Fate had to make a choice, although we do think that Loyola showed the better brand of play.

Greyhounds Beat Terrors

by Gene Conroy

Sparked by Nick Kropfelder's four goals, the soccer team added victory number three to its slate by downing a scrappy Western Maryland club, 4-1. The game, played at Westminster on October 25, saw the Loyola offense control the ball for the majority of the first half and then the defense play a stellar second half.

As a result of this win, the Greyhounds remained undefeated in conference play with only two games yet to be played. And two important games these are, for they will go a long way in determining the conference championship. The opponents are Baltimore University and Johns Hopkins.

Kropfelder Gets Four

The four goals booted in by Kropfelder boosted his loop total to nine and put him in a position for league scoring honors. Playing from his center forward position, the veteran star kicked in a pair of tallies in each of the first two quarters. Shortly after Kropfelder's last goal the half ended, and with it Loyola's offensive game.

Western Maryland's only scoring threat came in the final quarter, during which time Ed Stevenson, the Green Terrors' outside right, netted the ball just out of the reach of Goalie John Gants.

The accurate passing and excellent foot-work displayed by all the Green and Gray players seem to indicate that Coach Bish Baker has his team functioning at top form for the race down the stretch to the championship.

Student Support

Drive Gets Under Way To Increase School Spirit

A recent announcement (or challenge) by the Freshman Class to the rest of the school stating that the former could enkindle more school spirit than the Sophomores, Juniors, or Seniors has started a surge of action among the various classes.

Return challenges issued by the Seniors and the other classes, in the form of posters, have passed from the stage of bragging to one calling for united action by each class.

Clint Bamberger, student president, has set a date and established rules for a contest intended to determine who has the soundest claim.

Site Chosen

The site of the contest will be the Coliseum, on Saturday, December 11, at a basketball game between Loyola and the University of Maryland.

Because varsity sports are quite distinct from class activities, Bamberger felt that the Coliseum would be a neutral spot, where the united school support that Loyola needs could be displayed.

To tell which class is best represented, the ticket sales of student tickets will be counted. Students are urged to wear their Class Pup caps at the game, which factor will also serve in determining the winners of the contest.

As a reward to the class best represented, $25 will be given to its treasury. A poster display will keep students up-to-date on the race in ticket sales.

The Greyhound-Chesterfield contest is still in effect. Pick more winners than Bagli, and win Chesterfield cigarettes as a prize. Entries must be in the Greyhound Office before 3 p.m. today, and must be accompanied by an empty Chesterfield package.

Upset Special—Tennessee over Georgia Tech. Besides this game, which we feel may see an improving Vol team up-end undefeated Tech, there are a few others which may surprise the fans.

The most promising chances are: Wake Forest over Duke, William and Mary over N. Carolina, and Wisconsin over Northwestern. We won't stick our neck out and pick 'em, but anything can happen. We don't think Navy will lose by 34 points either.

Trophy Case And Swim Stands Near Completion

In the very near future, a new trophy case will be completed outside the Athletic Office in the basement of the Gymnasium. It will house all the awards and trophies won by Loyola College in the field of athletic competition.

In all, eighteen trophies will dot the new case for its formal opening. Basketball, baseball, lacrosse, swimming and other sports will be represented in the new addition to Loyola's expanding athletic facilities which are now among the best in the state.

The new case will stand 6 feet high, and measure 8 feet in length and 2 feet in depth. The construction is under the direction of the Loyola Athletic Association headed by Athletic Director Emil (Lefty) Reitz.

Another innovation is the erection of stands in the swimming pool by the Athletic Association. The present plan calls for the seating of about two hundred people without overcrowding the pool runway. The stands are to be completed in time for the first meet.

Local Group Hears Reitz

Coaches and instructors in charge of Catholic Youth Organization groups active in Baltimore received an authoritative boost in the know-how of their work recently, when Loyola's Athletic Director Emil G. Reitz conducted a series of lectures for them.

There were four talks in all, given on successive Saturdays at Cadoa Hall. Reitz found a ready and willing audience as he went through his course of instructions on Tournaments and Leagues, Care of Athletic Equipment, Care of Athletes, and Hints On First-Aid.

The Greyhound Athletic Director went into great detail in his talks, and to make sure that his words would strike a clear impression, even supplied his listeners with mimeographed outlines and diagrams of the subject matter.

C. Y. O. leaders expect to accomplish their work more efficiently as a result of the Loyola mentor's help.

The stands are being constructed by Bob DeLisle, a student on a work scholarship. Up to now Bob has done a very capable job in planning and building the foundation for the seats and anticipates satisfaction by all interested parties.

Hopkins Wins Golf Exhibition

Johns Hopkins golf team avenged two losses, suffered earlier this year at the hands of Loyola's linkmen, with a decisive 7-2 triumph in an exhibition match on October 24. This victory over the Greyhounds on their home course, Mount Pleasant, was unexpected and caused more than a little eyebrow raising in the golfing circles of Baltimore.

The closeness of the match play is hardly indicated by the score. All three Hopkins team victories, that is, the best ball matches, were gained by the slim margin of one hole.

Besides battling old man par, golfers from both teams were forced to trade blows with a prevailing wind which raised havoc with more than one score.

The upset of the day was registered by Dave Kinsey, when he scored a 2-up victory over Jack Cronin, the current Mason-Dixon and Maryland Golf champion. Jack's brother Bill, last spring's Intramural Tournament winner, kept the family's winning ways alive with a 5 and 3 conquest over Joe Margolus. Playing from the number six slot, Bill gained one of the two Loyola points.

Low scoring honors fell to John Bailey, who carded a 97 in downing Hassler 1-up in a very close match. Veteran Mel Beeler dropped a 4 and 3 match to Bob Patterson of Hopkins. Jack Simanski lost a tight duel to Ed Morgan, 1-up. Bill Butts, of Hopkins, won 5 and 3 over John Winterson in the remaining match.

Football, Tennis Champs To Be Determined Soon

by Ed Ward

Football

Each of the six leagues has produced a pennant team and the stage is now set for the championship playoffs. Most league winners were decided before the final game, but competition was stiff in all the leagues.

In the Black League Jeep Mueller's sextet remained unscathed as Dick Farace, Harry Schock, and Frank Linardi, Inc., set their eyes on the playoffs with their Diz Kids coming through on top. With Don Dell and Walt Sibiski bolstering the line, and Don Semesky and Bob Miller's aerials, the July '49ers have proven their worth in the Purple League.

Lushwell A. C. Wins

In the Red League, Mike Harris' Lushwell A. C. encountered several tough opponents but emerged in the lead when the final standings were counted. This combine lists Ed and Bill Taylor, Tom Russell, and Franny Meagher. The Southpaws proved too much for the opposition in the Blue League with the accurate passing of Bill Fannon and Neil Sybert, and with Rip Roberts, Vince Bagli, and Ted Whittle acting as targets.

In a do-or-die rubber game the Globetrotters nipped the Wachterettes 6-0 to claim the throne in the Green League. The tossing of George Bonnar, the glue fingers of Ed Twele and Jack Corbett and the all-around fine play of Don Bushman were the deciding factors in the final outcome. Last but far from least, the Shmoos gained leadership in the Orange League. Outstanding on this juggernaut is George Fallon, leading punter, passer and receiver deluxe. Helping George in their climb to fame were Tom Ostendorf, Ben Spurrier, Don Gillotti and John O'Connors.

The playoffs should provide gridiron entertainment galore and the ultimate champion will not only have to play hard but will also have to get the breaks. Watching some of these teams in action one can realize what a fine eleven Loyola could unleash on state opponents if sufficient facilities were available.

Tennis

The Loyola intramural net tourney is rolling along at a brisk pace as competition increases with each round. The seeded, the promising, and the favorites are surviving, as their victims fall by the wayside. The tourney is up to the quarter-finals and the tension is increasing for the participants.

Three triple set matches were played with Jim Dillon, Jim O'Connor, and Dick Tompkins outlasting Bob Schuman, Bob McKelvy and Ed Lynch respectively. Rip Roberts upset Jim Mitchell, Benny Spurrier downed Tal Cockey, Bob Brooks conquered Bill Cronin, and John Darrell brushed aside Marty O'Connor. John Mohler, the final participant in the winning octet took a forfeit match from Frank Whitman.

The remaining appear to be evenly matched and some interesting, hard-fought sets are in sight before the Intramural champ is crowned.

Soccer

Conference Championship May Hinge On Jay Test

Loyola's promising soccer team is scheduled to play the rugged Johns Hopkins aggregation here at Evergreen next Friday, November 12, in this year's renewal of what has been a very spirited rivalry in past seasons.

The Evergreen men have already shown that they are a power to be reckoned with in the Mason-Dixon Conference, and should be at their best for this important tilt. Aply coached by Bish Baker, the starting combination will probably be composed of high-scorer Nick Kropfelder, Armando Luzzi, Joe Gants, Everett O'Brien, Hank Linz, George Hicks, Tom Lind, Don Kerr, Lou Fonte, and the two Bullingtons, Harry and Jim.

Hopkins Ready

The Hopkins booters, however, will be no pushover. They are a fast, well-balanced team, stocked with lettermen. These include:

Captain Bobby Lang, senior left half; Harry Tighe, who is light, but fast and experienced; and the spectacular Mahmut Tulezoglul, sophomore from Turkey.

The Jays dropped their first game to Westchester State Teachers' College, one of the best college clubs in the East, by a score of 8-1, but bounced back with a win over Western Maryland, an evidence of improvement. The fact that a 3-1 defeat at the hands of Loyola last year still rankles in Homewood hearts indicates that the Jays will be keyed up for this season's game and gunning for an upset.

Championship Rests On Match

Should Loyola be able to pocket the Hopkins match, the Conference Championship may also be settled. The game should be a thriller from start to finish and one well worth watching by everyone who is able to attend.

Runners Face Tough Opponents; Brown And Rodney Ready To Go

Loyola's Harriers break into November with three tough meets. On the ninth the Greyhounds face St. Joseph's in Philadelphia; returning home, they meet Georgetown at Clifton four days later and Mount St. Mary's at Evergreen on the 16.

St. Joe has one of the outstanding teams in the East. John Kelly of the Hawks turned in a 22:40 at the Naval Academy, a record for the 3.9 mile Annapolis course. The Hawks are fast, and it will be up hill all the way for the up and downers of Loyola.

On November 13, the fast pace continues. The Greyhounds chase the Hoyas on the Clifton Park course, right in George Rodney's and George Brown's back yard.

With the heat on, the Pack enters the stretch against an ever strong Mount St. Mary's team. It was the Mounts who set the Hounds or their heels for a lone loss in 1947. You can rest assured the men from Loyola will be blowing hard down the necks of the Mounts as they take the turns between the evergreens.

Season Books Being Issued

Season books for every Loyola basketball game to be played on the Evergreen court are now available to all students. These books are free of charge and can be obtained upon presentation of a small photo and a registration card. No books will be distributed after November 15.

Indications are that Loyola will be represented by a great team this year, and since top flight opposition has been scheduled, fans should be treated to a string of action-packed games. Most of the students are well aware of this, and there was an early rush for the season books. Anyone who has not as yet obtained his book had better do so immediately, since the best seats are fast disappearing.

The books are being issued at the Athletic Office, which is located just inside the door of the Gym Building.

Debating Group Arranges Intercollegiate Contests

Plans are being drawn up by the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society for the formation of a Mason-Dixon Debating Conference. John Evelius, President of the organization, announced that many colleges and universities on the East Coast have already been contacted.

It was further stated that the purpose of the conference is to stimulate interest on a small scale this year with the hope of increasing interest in the future. A trophy will be awarded to the most outstanding team in the intercollegiate competition by the Loyola chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, the national forensic honor fraternity.

The society wishes to point out that all these plans are dependent upon the co-operation of the various colleges constituting the conference. Mr. James A. Perrott, Moderator of the society, expressed the belief that the necessary co-operation could be achieved.

Weekly meetings of the Debating Society are being held each Monday at 3:15 p. m. in room 1F. Mr. Perrott especially urges all pre-Law students to come and take an active part in debating. He maintains that it is one of the most important individual activities on the Loyola campus.

Students Attend Notre Dame Dance

Approximately 25 Loyola students attended a tea dance sponsored by the Kymry Club of Notre Dame of Maryland College at Notre Dame on Sunday, October 24 from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Invitation to the affair was given to the students of Loyola individually. Admittance was by invitation only. Only resident students of Notre Dame attended the dance.

Seniors Submit Thesis Subjects

Subjects for the senior theses of the class of July '49 were submitted to the Dean's Office before November 1. Announcement of the deadline for thesis subjects was made by the Dean at the beginning of the school year. The subjects were required to deal with some aspect of the students' major elective. The completed thesis must be at least 3500 words in length.

A moderator will be assigned to each group of students writing on the same general subject.

OCS FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

If you've graduated from high school or can pass an equivalent examination, are between 19 and 28 years old, are a U. S. citizen, and have necessary physical qualifications, apply now for enlistment for Army OCS. After your application is approved, you'll be enlisted as a Sergeant and given basic training if you have not had it already, then sent direct to Officer Candidate School, subject to quotas, of course. Upon graduation, you'll be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Reserve, and placed on two years of active duty. Top OCS graduates are commissioned in the Regular Army—all others may compete for a Regular Army Commission. Get all the facts about applying for OCS entrance at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station without delay!
